SHOPPING & DINING IN LOWER MANHATTAN

We’re not shy at the Downtown Alliance. We love to brag and boast about the incredible growth and excitement that characterizes life in Lower Manhattan. But it’s nice when others notice our vibrancy—especially when it’s the internationally known Michelin Guide, which just gave Lower Manhattan three stars! That is the highest accolade it awards for a destination.

To anyone who has walked our streets recently, this should come as no surprise. In addition to historical neighborhood favorites that give us character and a sense of authenticity, compelling new additions are opening every day.

On the culinary front, this last year has been game-changing. At 70 Pine Street, the restaurant Crown Shy opened with aplomb. The New York Times gave it a rave review, and now it’s a challenge to land a table at this inventive hotspot, captained by renowned chef James Kent. At the Seaport District, the legendary Jean Georges Vongerichten has opened The Fulton. It too received outsized praise from The New York Times for its seafood-oriented fare. And, if the delicious menu wasn’t enough of a draw, its stunning Brooklyn Bridge views make a meal there sublime. Also at the Seaport, acclaimed restaurateur David Chang has opened up an exciting concept christened Bar Wayō. Wayō comes from the term “wayō secchu,” which means the “compromise between East and West.” Chang’s hybrid menu of original drinks and small plates with big flavors is already packing them in over by the East River.

It’s not only marquee food names that are opening downtown, but legendary Joe’s Pizza has also created an outpost on Nassau Street where you can get a classic New York slice anytime. Not to mention carnitas masters Los Tacos No. 1 has opened its newest location in the northern part of the neighborhood on Church Street.

All kinds of other great changes are afoot. For bookworms like me, we now have two world-class bookstores keeping their shelves filled to serve Lower Manhattan readers.

McNally Jackson Books is already open at the Seaport, and Shakespeare & Co. is coming to Brookfield Place in early 2020. Speaking of Brookfield, Amazon’s new retail concept Amazon Go has opened one of its first three New York locations at the westside shopping plaza. Amazon Go is a new kind of store with no checkout required. Shoppers use the Amazon Go app to enter the store, take the products they want, and carry on with their day—no lines, no checkout. For the analog romantics among us, at Westfield World Trade Center the inventive florists at Venus ET Fleur are making sure that love is always in bloom.

If these new eating and shopping options weren’t enough, the entertainment scene is maturing rapidly. In the coming months, Alamo Drafthouse will open a 14-screen movie palace at 28 Liberty that will offer delicious eats to complement inventive cinema. The World Trade Center’s Perelman Center for the Performing Arts is under construction and scheduled for a late 2021 opening. The center will offer a new kind of multidisciplinary venue, offering the latest space and technological opportunities to create original work in theater, dance, music and chamber opera, unlike anywhere else in New York City.

If more athletic pursuits are to your taste, Five Iron Golf opened at 22 Stone Street, where its state of the art simulators, private lessons and club storage appeal to the serious golfer; for us amateurs, the bar and fast-casual fare make a painful golf game a little more fun.

Lastly, we always want to hear from you about your hopes for Lower Manhattan. What’s missing? What shops, restaurants and activities would you like to see here? Let us know at whatsmissing@downtownny.com

Lower Manhattan, and our city, is constantly changing and evolving. So please remember, for the most up-to-date information, go to our website downtownny.com.

Lower Manhattan is an easy place to get all your shopping done. In one square mile, you'll find independently-owned boutiques, popular chains and long-standing institutions like Century 21. The last few years have witnessed a major wave of retailers enter the scene that answered a surging demand among residents, workers and visitors.

What follows is a list of the district’s myriad shopping opportunities. It's hard to keep up with the area's thriving landscape—fortunately, this section will navigate you through everything the neighborhood has to offer.

And since we know things are always changing, we're on the ground reporting on new openings and relocations. Follow us @DowntownNYC or visit our website to find the latest retail news and the best "Downtown Deals" from local retail and dining at downtownny.com/deals.

And if we missed your favorite local spot, let us know! This is a dynamic scene and we want to help make sure every business gets its deserved attention. Contact us at contactus@downtownny.com or (212) 566-6700.

Westfield World Trade Center
A Hurry? Sudden Downpour? Running Late?

Our shuttle bus service runs 7 days a week, making stops all across Lower Manhattan — from the Seaport District to Battery Park City and everything in between.

It’s not only a convenient way to get around Lower Manhattan — the best part about the Downtown Connection is that it’s free.

So hop on and take a ride. The Downtown Connection is here for you!

The service:

- Runs 7 days a week from 10 AM to 7:30 PM except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year’s Day.
- Averages 10-minute intervals, traffic permitting.
- Is 100% free!

Downtown Connection™

Founded in 1995, the Alliance for Downtown New York is the business improvement district for Lower Manhattan, south of Chambers Street.

Our mission is to provide service, advocacy, research and information to advance Lower Manhattan as a global model of a 21st Century central business district for businesses, residents and visitors. We do this by supporting commercial tenancy; promoting and sustaining the tourism, technology and retail sectors, and acting as Lower Manhattan’s authoritative research and information source.

Our operations team strives to make the neighborhood safe, clean and welcoming. We provide free public transportation, offer homeless outreach, maintain public spaces, empty hundreds of garbage and recycling receptacles daily, clear snow off of sidewalks, remove graffiti and repair street furniture. Our public safety officers work with the NYPD to keep crime rates among the lowest in the city.

The Alliance is dedicated to making Lower Manhattan a thriving and enjoyable place for all.
